New Gazebo to be unveiled at RHS Hampton Court Palace Flower Show 2009

HSP Garden Buildings have chosen the RHS Hampton Court Palace Flower Show to unveil its latest new addition to its range of stunning Gazebo's.

The Ardley Gazebo has all the fine details and trademark sculpted lead roof that HSP has become highly acclaimed for. Sized at 1.8m square inside and 3.3m in height, the Ardley is priced at £5,658 including benches, delivery, installation and VAT. Graceful sweeping lines with central arches teamed with open-sided trellising, and two bench seating areas combine to make this a stunning and practical focal point in any garden.

HSP design and hand craft a full range of summerhouses, pavilions, arbours and gazebo's of every size and shape which continue to delight all who own them. Meticulous attention to detail along with the opportunity to colour match your structure to any colour you choose, ensures your building is personalised to your exact style and taste.

The Ardley Gazebo will be displayed with a number of other HSP designs on the Peter Cutting stand at Hampton Court Palace Flower Show stand No. C42 from 7th to 12th July 2009. Experts will be on hand to chat through the variety of styles available, and with any questions to help customers find the exact structure to suit their requirements.
